

No animal testing for HOWND grooming products!

Hownd is proud to be a cruelty free company. All of our grooming products have the Leaping Bunny stamp of approval, and you'll find the logo on all our labels to confirm this.

What this means is that you can purchase our products with peace of mind knowing that no animal testing has been done on either the final products or the individual raw materials that go into creating our quality formulas.

We make great grooming products for pets and we don't need to do any animal experiments to prove this.

Being Leaping Bunny certified requires us to abide by a fixed cut-off date and open up our supplier systems to independent auditors to ensure we adhere to strict criteria.

For more information about the Leaping Bunny and Cruelty Free International, please visit <http://www.crueltyfreeinternational.org/>

Cruelty-Free
INTERNATIONAL